SNEAK PEEK - ANNUAL TOWN MEETING

By Joy Brenner, CdMRA President

First of all, our apologies if this newsletter is reaching you a little late. No excuses; everyone everywhere is busy these days, and we just got caught with a few extra deadlines which delayed our newsletter getting to the printer. You will still find on the following pages news and helpful information regardless of when you read it. So sit back with your favorite beverage or snack, and read on.

The Corona del Mar Residents Association Annual Meeting, held in April each year, always signals the beginning of spring for me. It's such a pleasure to spend time in the beautiful Sherman Gardens, while visiting with old neighbors and friends and making new ones. We have many volunteers to thank in addition to the staff for the beautiful environment.

As we learn about Fire prevention and Public Safety from our chiefs of police and fire, we also have an opportunity to ask questions about other issues which affect our community.

Our focus this year is community involvement...and we certainly have plenty of that.

Each year we have representatives from the Friends of Oasis. That group of volunteers provides funds and resources for many of the services which benefit seniors in our community. Much effort is focused on health and the ability for seniors to be self-sufficient.

Another group represented will be the Friends of the Library. They also raise funds for vital services at the Newport Beach Public Libraries and staff a variety of positions including the book store we all love to visit.

Additionally we will have representatives from city boards and commissions, such as the Arts Commission and the Board of Library Trustees. These also are volunteers who spend their own personal time to benefit our community.

For the first time our expo will include tables with representatives from some of our local schools. The level of community involvement in schools these days surpasses that of years past. In that area as with most other activities in our community, the level of participation makes it possible for many things to be accomplished that would not be possible otherwise.

And last but not least are the members of your CdMRA Board of Directors. These are the people who get up for our monthly 7:30 a.m. Board Meetings to represent you. Each representative comes from a different section of 92625 and helps in events such as this and other activities to advocate for our community.

VOLUNTEERS ADVOCATING FOR CORONA DEL MAR

Whether you are a CdMRA member or have not yet joined, we look forward to seeing you on April 25. Please join us, learn about fire prevention and public safety and visit with your friends and neighbors!

CDMRA MEMBERSHIP: GOOD NEWS!

If you want to join CdMRA or pay your annual Member Dues ($20 per calendar year), you can do so at our Annual Meeting. We accept credit card payments as well as cash and checks. Our goal is to make it as easy as possible for you to become or remain a member.

We have come a long way since 1987, and quite a few of our existing members have been with us since Day 1. Whether you have been a member for over 30 years, or under 30 days, we are all partners in this important endeavor.

We value your ideas, your input and your feedback, which we ask for often. We have grown from living-room sized meetings to a full-fledged organization proud to call almost 700 residents our members and partners.

CdMRA believes that our Members are our greatest strength, and having representation from across the community is critical. We think you will agree!

A FOND FAREWELL

One of our perennial CdM Town Meeting Expo participants who, sadly, you won't see this year is Crime Prevention Specialist Andi Querry. Andi recently announced her plans to retire from NBPD to spend more time with her family. We will dearly miss Andi and all the support she has provided to so many of us over the years. Congratulations Andi. We wish you nothing but the best in the years ahead. Don't be a stranger; you are always welcome in CdM!

CITY'S CRIME PREVENTION SPECIALIST RETIRES

Newport Beach and Corona del Mar will lose a crime-fighting friend with the retirement later this month of Andrea "Andi" Querry, the police department's crime prevention specialist for the past 19 years.

Querry's last day will be April 27, and her replacement has not yet been selected.

"Over the years, many of my evenings and weekends have belonged to the wonderful Newport Beach community, but now I plan to be the mom that can always say 'yes' to volunteering at school, carpooling and attending a fieldtrip here or there," Querry said.

"I love to garden, and so that is my very own Neighborhood Watch secret. When you are out in the yard, you feel good, the yard looks beautiful and you get to know all your neighbors. I will also be filling my time with my love of art, sewing, refinishing furniture and DIY projects. Most of all, I am looking forward to more family time with my wonderful husband, Randy, and our two girls. I also plan to have dinner on the table before 7 p.m. on most nights."

As the department's crime prevention specialist, Querry coordinated Neighborhood and Business Watch programs and community presentations that educated the public on crime trends and prevention methods. She also conducted commercial and home security inspections.

"Andi has been phenomenal in her position of crime prevention specialist," said her supervisor, Lt. Tom Fischbacher, who also is the chief's executive officer. "Her relationships and credibility in our communities has been instrumental in a highly effective crime prevention strategy. She will be greatly missed by her NBPD family, but we wish her well in her new role as a stay-at-home mom."

WHAT'S NEW IN HOME SECURITY?

Reprinted from NBPD Crime Prevention Fliers

Your home security is probably not something you worry too much about until you read a community post or talk with a family friend or neighbor who has been a victim of a residential burglary or found out that a thief has gone through their vehicle overnight.

While there are many layers to having a great Home Security Plan, I think all Newport Beach residents should consider adding Interactive Security to their Plan.

Basic Home Security:

- ✓ Always lock your windows and doors when you go out, even if for only a few minutes.
- ✓ All exterior doors should be locked using a deadbolt lock. The strike plate should be installed with at least two, three inch screws.
- ✓ All sliding glass doors should be equipped with a secondary lock or have a wooden dowel placed in the track.
- ✓ If your house/apartment is equipped with an alarm, always activate it, even if you're only going out for a short walk.
- ✓ Consider adding a motion sensor in your master bedroom/bathroom. The sensor would activate the alarm if a burglar smashed a window and then climbed in and then out of the hole. Burglars use this technique to avoid doors and windows that are equipped with sensors.
- ✓ Always keep porch lights on from dusk to dawn.
- ✓ Use timers on indoor lamps to give the appearance that you are home.
- ✓ Adjust window coverings for optimal privacy while maintaining good visibility outside.
- ✓ Never leave a key hidden under the doormat or in a nearby potted plant.
- ✓ Never leave mail, whether delivered or outgoing, in your mailbox overnight.
- ✓ If you have a safe, make sure that it is properly secured with bolts so that it cannot be easily removed. Never leave your safe open, or a key or combination lying around.
- ✓ When you go out of town for several days, please call NBPD at 949-644-3681 and request a vacation check. Also ask a trusted neighbor to keep an eye on your residence and to contact police if they see suspicious activity.

THE FIRE RISK IN CORONA DEL MAR

Article by Amy Senk

CdMRA Board Member

For almost 30 years, city fire officials and Corona del Mar residents have worried about a fire in Buck Gully or Morning Canyon that could spread embers and flames and burn down the entire town.

After wildfires last year brought historic levels of death and destruction to California, the danger locally has once again reclaimed the spotlight.

"I don't want to read that five or 10 homes have burned down, and that a fire is out of control, and that's what could happen," said Linda Oeth, a CdM resident, at the February board meeting of the Corona del Mar Residents Association.

The meeting's featured speaker was Newport Beach Fire Chief Chip Duncan, who has been with the department since 1987 and last year took the top job. He described the city's regular inspection of Buck Gully, Morning Canyon and Newport Coast, and he said fire risk management is taken seriously but is being managed safely. When homeowners in the inspected areas aren't following the code regarding brush, tree height and other risks, they are cited. Eventually, he said, they could be fined and the city would take over cleanup of the property.

But residents at the meeting, held at the OASIS Senior Center, said that the city should consider stricter rules and enforcement following the devastating wildfires last year throughout the state.

Oeth read a 1990 newspaper article that described some residents' resistance to clearing brush from Buck Gully, and another member recalled that a decade or so later, a resident formed a group called Friends of Buck Gully to fight against clearing vegetation for fire control reasons. That group appears to have disbanded, but for years, there was a certain level of resistance when it came to clearing the canyons from fire fuel.

"I think the time has come to revisit this and not back down," said CdMRA board member Sandie Haskell, who lives along lower Buck Gully. "I've personally had to pull little kids out of the canyon who were about to set off fireworks. It's (a wildfire) destined to happen." And if a fire starts in a canyon, embers and sparks could cause it to spread, especially if high winds and other hazardous conditions are in place.

"It's going to cascade," said CdM resident Laura Curran, who is also leading the efforts to promote the city's CERT Program (Community Preparedness) in and around CdM Village.

Nine years ago, the city's fire marshal, Steve Bunting, warned of the same danger, saying his big fear was that "we're going to lose the whole village." Bunting retired in 2010, and currently there is no fulltime replacement in place.

Chief Duncan has been acting as the city's official fire marshal, but he conceded that he has more experience in operations than in studying and rewriting municipal codes. Hiring a full-time fire marshal to work on risk management with expertise in not only local regulations but with state rules, environmental concerns and enforcement policies could be key to managing and updating the city's approach to fire danger.

City Councilman Scott Peotter said he'd have "no problem" bringing the matter up to the Council, and the CdMRA board decided to form a committee to consider the issues and to work with city staff.

APRIL IS EARTHQUAKE PREPAREDNESS MONTH ARE YOU READY?

By Matt Brisbois, NBFD Community Preparedness

April is National Earthquake Preparedness Month, and is the time of year we like to remind you to answer the following questions about your family's safety preparedness measures:

- ✓ Do you have an emergency plan for your family?
- ✓ Did you set aside supplies and prepare an evacuation kit?
- ✓ Have you looked into the free training offered by the City?
- ✓ Have you signed up to receive emergency alerts from the City and County?

Don't delay. If you answered NO to ANY of the questions above, take steps to fix it today. It is up to each of us to take care of our families first. The City simply does not have sufficient emergency resources to respond in the immediate aftermath of a disaster. For more information, visit NBCERT.org.

ARE YOU TALKING WITH YOUR NEIGHBORS?

#BEINGPREPARED

By Danielle Rivas, CdMRA Member and CdM CERT Organizer

I recently had an opportunity to interview Matt Brisbois, Newport Beach Fire Department's Community Preparedness Champion, about the CERT Program (Community Emergency Response Team). What follows is a brief, but informative recap.

As neighbors, Newport Beach CERT and Laguna Beach CERT work together, sharing strategies and creating community plans. This all began in 2005 with nine active CERT programs in Orange County. We now are up to 26 CERT programs in 36 cities.

Each city is working with their neighbors and community to build a more prepared neighborhood, helping each other and their city when we may not have help in those first 24, 48 or 72 hours ... or possibly longer.

Who will you turn to for help? Your neighbors. It's time to get involved and know where your local meeting area/command post is located in your neighborhood. Being curious about something before it happens will help not only you, but those around you too!

Matt, what is your favorite preparedness kit item you've purchased for your home?

Goal Zero Solar - <https://goo.gl/UTSeFF> Solar Chargers will play a big part in being sustainable on our own in our homes, office and cars, because you can power up with the sun and you'll never have to worry about finding a plug. Our biggest threat in town recently has been power outages. Having a way to keep your phones and other electronics charged is critical for staying informed during power outages.

Would you touch on City's Fire Medics Program?

We have a great paramedics program we offer to our Newport Beach residents. A nominal $60/year fee can be paid in installments on your water bill. Two paramedics will arrive on scene and stay with you all the way to the hospital. Door-to-door service. It is well worth the annual charge. Sign up for Fire Medics Program at <https://goo.gl/JKsxFN>. Your family members, guests, employees, and customers are covered if they are in your home at the time of a paramedic call. All residents and businesses in the Newport Beach are eligible for membership. This program protects you from unexpected expenses from paramedic services.

What apps do you recommend we use to find more information?

- ✓ OC Alert ... <https://goo.gl/jNNgks> Especially helpful if you hear our tsunami sirens and it's not the 1st Friday of the month
- ✓ Pulse Point ... <http://www.pulsepoint.org/> Locate AED's, Citizen responders, daily Nbfd active response calls
- ✓ NIXLE ... <http://www.nixle.com/> Customizable information and alerts for a variety of devices
- ✓ Red Cross ... <https://goo.gl/1YUdVR> Information about resources for active military and veterans, first aid, blood donation, pet first aid, earthquake and flood notifications, plus evacuation plans

CDM'S VERY OWN LIFESAVER & AWARD WINNER

By Karen Tringali, CdMRA Past President and CERT Member

CdMRA's Board Member Karen Mascitelli (Cameo Shores) had a very exciting January. Many of you know Karen M from her volunteer work in many areas, including CERT and Neighborhood Watch.

A Life Saved

Using skills she learned through her CERT training, Karen saved the life of an elderly woman at her church. Karen came across the 90+ year-old woman unconscious in the bathroom and took immediate charge of the situation. Karen instructed another bystander to call 911 while she administered resuscitation by using the church's AED (automated defibrillator). When the paramedics arrived a few minutes later, they found the woman conscious and breathing. After an overnight stay in the hospital, the elderly woman was released. Her outcome could have been so very different if it were not for Karen's quick and effective actions. Cameo is fortunate to have residents like Karen who have trained for emergency situations such as this.

An Award Earned

Just a few days later, and unrelated to Karen's life-saving efforts, the City of Newport bestowed on Karen the 2018 Spirit of CERT Award at the annual State of CERT Award Banquet. Matt Brisbois, Newport Beach Fire Department's Community Preparedness Champion, had this to say about Karen:

"Karen Mascitelli epitomizes the spirit of volunteerism through her work with the Newport Beach Fire Department's CERT program. Karen has been involved with the CERT program for a number of years. During her time with the program, she has been instrumental in organizing her Cameo neighborhood. The Cameo Community Association's Neighborhood CERT Team would not be where it is today if it were not for the efforts of Karen M.

In addition to her work in better preparing her neighborhood, Karen is also very involved with CERT community outreach activities and is one of the CERT CPR/AED and First Aid instructors."

We encourage you to follow Karen's lead and take advantage of the free training the City provides to its residents. You never know when a member of your family, a friend or neighbor will need a life-saver at their side.

For more information about training and general preparedness information, please visit NBCERT.org or talk to our very own heroine, Karen Mascitelli!

SEAGULLS IN FLIGHT WILL RETURN

Reprinted with permission from StuNews

Amid a farewell party, a book sale and logistical details regarding the demolition and reconstruction of the Corona del Mar library branch and fire station – an interesting question popped up at a recent meeting of the Corona del Mar Residents Association.

What will become of the sculpture in front of the Marigold Avenue branch?

The short answer, according to Newport Beach Library Services Director Tim Hetherton, is that the sculpture, "Seagulls in Flight" will be stored at Central Library, out of public sight, for the duration of the construction. When that's complete, sometime next summer, the artwork will be returned.

It may be a small detail in the overall scope of the project, but the sculpture has a meaningful history for CdM residents, a history that was retold in 2015 when the city spent $4,450 to restore and repair the piece.

The sculpture was donated to the city in 1960, a year after the branch opened, to honor Molly McClintock, who lived in Shore Cliffs and died in a car crash shortly after graduating from Newport Harbor Union High School. The 18-year-old had been a drum majorette and popular student who is regularly remembered at class reunions every year.

Her friends recalled that she had moved to California from the south, and her mother was worried about her finding friends, but she fit in just fine. Her mother "made a huge sacrifice" to pay for the sculpture, which has an inscription that says: "To the youth of Corona del Mar in memory of Molly McClintock." The piece, which depicts birds in flight with wings touching, originally was placed at Big Corona State Beach, but the salt air and sunlight caused damage, so it eventually was trucked to the shady spot by the library entrance.

Earlier repairs had been inadequate, Hetherton said back in April 2015. The piece was removed, restored, and replaced in about a month. Back then, Hetherton said he hoped to move the piece to another public area during library construction, but instead it will be kept safe in storage.

The branch is now formally closed, and plans to re-open next summer. During the interim, you can reserve books online for convenient pick up and drop off at OASIS (ask for the Administration office).

SCE UPGRADES: CDM VILLAGE POLES & WIRES

By Paul Blank, CdMRA Treasurer

Southern California Edison is modernizing the power grid to meet the changing needs and expectations of its customers and to help California achieve its clean energy goals. They have been investing more than $12 billion into their power grid in the last few years with the goal of increasing power reliability through significant upgrades.

What does that mean for Corona del Mar? In CdM Village, the purpose of this project is to minimize unplanned wire-down incidents and to shorten any outage duration. SCE is replacing all of the existing wire with a heavier wire and adding additional switching to accomplish these service improvements.

SCE is also upgrading facilities for a more robust system. In order to accomplish this work they will be accessing all of the poles in the area. Some poles will need to be replaced in order to accommodate the additional equipment. There is a possibility that cranes may be utilized and some streets may be closed while they are working.

SCE has promised, in conjunction with the City's Public Works Department, that they will convey this information to the affected residents so they can make accommodations if necessary. They will also be informed of any scheduled power outages. The affected addresses will receive outage notifications in the mail no less than 72 hours in advance.

Most of the work will take place Monday through Friday during daylight hours as per city requirements. SCE anticipates this project will take approximately two months to complete. Once the project is underway, the crew will inform residents either in person or by written notice as needed.

Additional information will be published in our monthly Members-Only email newsletters. Or contact Public Works for more information at 949-644-3311 or by email at pwinfo@newportbeachca.gov.

Here is a general view of the impacted area.
